A SAMPLE OF NORTHERN VENOM -The ollowing from the New York Tribune is a fair specimen of the rancor which still lurks in the bosoms of many Northern in the bosoms of many Northern writers when they undertake to describe anything which occurs in the South:

This has been a great day for Alexanown in the Oli Dominion were broken at n early hour by the beating of drums, the are of trumpets and the ringing of bells, ith which was ushered in the twentyeighth anniversary of the basty evacuation of the town by the secessionist troops, who did not stop to fire a gun, and also of the killing of the gallant young Colonel Ellsworth. Times have changed indeed since hat May morning twenty eight years ago. when it placed the name of his daughter on the list of its favored employes on the list of its layout employes in the same Department with Brown-nell, the instant avenger of Ellsworth's foul murder. Then the Stars and Stripes flew nowhere in Alexandria except over the ranks of armed men; to day scores of builf-liberally covered with the state. ings were liberally covered with the national colors, thereby making disagreeably conious a confectioner's store and a tailor's hop which were profesely decorated with red, white and ted" bunting—a wanton asult to visitors who are ex soldiers of the ad who are invited to be present on casion. The occasion was the dedicaion of a monument to the memory of the Alexandrians who fought for the "Lost

Their names carved on the pedes tal number ninety seven. There is the sen-timent engineed on the pedestal: "They died in the consciousness of duty faithfully " The pedestal is surmounted production of E der of Richmond and of New York, and is creditable work. More than 5,000 people-that means a tremendous crowd in Alexandria—gathered to witness the procession and the unveiling of headed by Bradley T. Johnston, a couple of volunteer companies from Washington, and four or five volunteer fire companies of Alexandria, the whole being headed by the Marine Band. In a carriage near the head of the procession rode Governor Lee, General Joseph E. Johnston, General M. D. Corse, the first colonel of the 17th Virginia. which was raised in Alexandria, and Mr. Daniel. This Mr. Daniel made the presentation address, which for effront ry and bad taste could not well be matched. nd men who fought to save the union were rattors, and Jefferson Davis, Robert E Lee and other conspirators were patriots. Gov.

ddress was in better taste, but he, no, missed an opportunity. Some persons may criticise the good taste of his declaration that his uncle, Robert E. Lee, was as pure and unselfish a patriot as George Wash-

HYDRAULION S. F. E. Co .- A called meet ig of this company was held last night, Richard L. Carne, president, in the chair, and S. Robert Shinn, recorder, acting as sec-The chair stated that he had called the meeting to take action with reference to the insult which all with whom he had spo-ken thought had been offered the company by the time and manner of the suspension of the engineer and other incidents of that occasion. Mayor Downbam, who was present, gave a statement of the facts in the case and his views on the subject, throwing the responsibility upon certain officers of the

Mr. H. J. Nevitt replied, concurring in the statement of facts, but drawing appropriate conclusions

Mr. Braxton B. Smith gave his views on the manner in which the company had been treated and the chair gave his, as to the ights and duties of all the parties concerned. After some further debate, a resolution was adopted with reference to certain utterances of the president of the board of fire wardens and callling on him for an explanation of them. Then the subject of the engineership the skin smooth and free from all eruptions. was taken up and a resolution adopted, after Broadus & Smith, agents, some remarks by Mayor Downham, (who is an honorary member) and others, asking the wardens, should a vacancy be created, to await a recommendation from the com pany before making a statement.

The chair then offered the following, which was unanimously adopted; viz:

Whereas the beautiful monument erected by the people of Alexandria to the memory of the brave firemen who lost their lives in their neighbors service on the memorable morning of November 17th, 1855, is so placed that few ever see it and some do not even know of its existence.

PERSONAL—Rev. Dr. Leonard, of St. John's Church, Washington, has not decided whether he will accept the position of assistant rector of the diocese of Ohio.

Miss Maud Downham, daughter of Mayor Downham, is visiting the Misses Colbert in Fredericksburg.

Mr. Harry Price has secured a position in the service of the R. & D. R. R. and will leave here this evening for Lynchburg.

Mr. Cornelius O'Leary, formerly of this city and now a wealthy and prominent citizens of Roanoke, was here to day looking at some property with, it is said, the ulti-mate intention of again making his residence here.

The Fredericksburg Lance says: "Chairman Dan Lee has at last succeeded in getting the pigs out of the clover and into the pen in Stafford. He claims three democratic supervisors out of the four. At any rate it is 'tootytoo' and another district to hear from."

FOUND DEAD,-Mr. Truman Abrams was found dead on his farm, near Cloud's Mill, in Fairfax county, about four o'clock yester-day afternoon. The deceased had previous-ly taken off his coat, which he utilized into a There is no slave pen now, and to day hundreds of colored men and women, well dressed and intelligent, mingled with the crowds which packed the principal thoroughfare. Jackson, who slew Ellsworth, called "Martyr" Jackson then by the townfolks, is mentioned now as a "deeperado," and the clemency of the Government is thought to have reached its extreme limit when it placed the name of his daughter. nine years. He was about seventy years of age, and was generally esteemed. At the last election the deceased was a candidate for Magistrate in Fairfax county. Mr. Abrams in his old home had been a journal ist, and during his sojourn hereabouts he would occasionally return to his first love by writing letters to the GAZETTE from Lin-colnia, which were readable and always contained the news of the neighborhood. His death was caused by heart disease.

AFTER VIRGINIA POSTOFFICES - Several republicans from Warrenton, called at the Posteffice Department in Washington yes-terday to have Mr. L. W. Caldwell removed as postmaster at that place. It is learned that not long ago Mahone filed charges against Mr. Caldwell, and that in the docu ment he was several times alluded to as a "vicious partisan." It is also said that Mr. Wanamaker telegraphed a Warrenton republican a few days ago that Mr. Caldwell would be removed in a few days. The Culpeper is another Virginia postoffice that the republicans are trying hard to get possession of. There are four applicants for the position, which is now held by Mr. Robertson, who has a long time to serve yet.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY-Judge witness the procession and the unveiling of the statue and to listen to the speeches of Governor Lée and Mr. Daniel, of Richmond. The procession, which was not a large one, included several camps of Confederate Velerans from Alexandria, Frederick-burg, Loudoun, and the Maryland Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States, the Readley T. GOOD TEMPLARS .- The regular meeting of Golden Light Lodge was held last night at which two candidates were initiated and four names proposed. At ten o'clock the doors were thrown open to the public and Co. B furnished an excellent programme of musical and literary exercises. A delegation of Golden Light Ledge will visit Clements Ladge, of Washington, to-night.
